

REFINING BEAUTY

Laser's Edge

Insecurities...we all have them. So when I went to visit the professionals at Laser's Edge located on 17th Ave SW, I was immediately impressed by the variety of services aimed at diminishing those insecurities for good. Not only did their caring staff have precise information of what the treatments physically achieve, but also the knowledge of how the services diminish those insecurities and improve one's self confidence, offering the whole package. By promoting a shift in thought from dwelling on what you believe are your imperfections, owners Tamara and Veronica and their highly trained staff are focused on providing advanced technology combined with personal care to refine outward beauty while boosting self-confidence to enhance the mind, body and soul.

The Laser's Edge has a twelve member team who specialize in different areas, all under one roof. Their services cover laser hair removal for all skin types, custom laser facials, photo facials, skin rejuvenation, microdermabrasion, laser vascular treatment, spider vein removal, chemical peels, scar and stretch mark reduction, a wide range of massage therapies and whole body cleansing. Treatments when performed in unison with medical grade home care achieve results that improve textured and damaged skin, fine lines, skin tone, age spots, rosacea, facial capillaries, sun damage, enlarged pores, scarring, stretch marks, acne skin and tattoo removal.

Three of the newest treatments offered at Laser's Edge include Micro Current Therapy for the body, Fraxel Laser Therapy for the skin and Acupuncture for complete wellness. European Micro Current Therapy performs a full array of body treatments which begins with cleansing the body of toxins. After detoxifying is complete, treatments such as electrolipolysis (similar to liposuction but non invasive, perfect for those who want results but are not prepared to go under the knife), core strengthening, body sculpting and skin tightening are utilized to provide maximum results. More information on these treatments can be found at www.BlueWaveHealth.ca. Laser's Edge is also pleased to offer the most advanced laser technology to date with the Fraxel. Using next generation lasers, the Fraxel is able to resurface and rejuvenate the skin for immediate and long term results. Not only will you see immediate reductions in fine lines and skin imperfections, you will also have increased collagen production and firming for long term anti aging. Before and after treatment photos can be viewed at www.fraxel.com. The newest addition at Laser's Edge is Doctor Nicole Bend. Dr. Bend specializes in Chinese medicine and Acupuncture, which is recognized in treating a wide range of health conditions such as addictions (smoking, alcohol, etc.), anxiety, arthritis, migraines, fibromyalgia, infertility and stress.

I was impressed that all treatments are customized to the individual, making sure that your treatments address your personal concerns. Tamara, Veronica and the entire staff have an ultimate goal to create a clinic where guests get more than just a service. They are truly passionate about providing the type of environment and quality of treatment to improve people's self confidence, using the latest techniques and technology. To achieve this goal, staff offer clients continuous education, knowledge and support before and after treatment. They also carry a wide range of pre and post treatment products prescribed by certified industry professionals, which are intended to enhance the results gained from your treatments.

One of the biggest differences between Laser's Edge and their competitors are the qualifications and knowledge their staff possess and use in personal one on one treatment. "Making sure we have the latest technology and that our technicians are educated and trained properly to use it is one of the top priorities, ongoing education is the key to results at Laser's Edge" says co-owner Tamara. It is obvious in the way she speaks about her business philosophy that she is very sincere about changing lives.

Laser's Edge is also the home of the LCA Laser and CosMedic Academy, where Physicians, Aestheticians and Laser Technicians are trained to work with Laser Technology and advanced body-beautifying equipment, preparing them to go work in the field with knowledge and confidence. Dr. Y Shihab, MD, Honors, has been a University Professor, spending more than 20 years researching, teaching and developing cosmetic and laser applications. He is renowned for developing formulas used in Laser Hair Removal and Skin Resurfacing. Dr. Shihab is the founder of the LCA Laser and CosMedic Academy, which offers the most comprehensive Laser and Medical Aesthetics training programs in North America. Hundreds of professionals worldwide utilize Dr. Shihab's knowledge and experience, including staff at Laser's Edge. For more information on courses
